Small Group Report Katy, Sheri, Donna

Reflection #1

Question 3 - What would you like to learn in this course.

Our group all expressed excitement at learning how to teach programming because we want to teach it well and relate it to future occupations our students may be in. We know we are already or in the future being assigned to teach programming and want the know-how to do it correctly.

We know that our way of learning may be different from how our students will learn and we are interested in the methods of teaching programming. We also hope that this course will help us promote computer science and programming so that more students will take our courses.

We also want to know how to relate programming to cross curricular requirements in our districts.
